County Budget Increased .77 Of A Mill For 50-51

An operating budget of $2,691,258—a decrease of some $13,000—under last year was tentatively approved by the Palm Beach County Commission Monday when the group accepted the proposed budget and set July 24 as the date for final approval.

Expenditures for the coming year, the commission said, provides for several increases in operating expense and the purchase of new equipment for the county.

Increases which commissioners said were responsible for the .77 boost, in tax millage includes a $10,000 increase for medical treatment of indigent patients; $10,000 for new equipment; $15,000 for welfare work; $5,000 for tuberculosis control; $15,000 for purchase of voting machines; $7,000 for radio communications equipment for sheriff's department.

A sum of $5,000 was budgeted for hiring a rate expert in an attempt to obtain lower freight rates for this sector. R. B. McKee, assistant auditor said the amount will be matched by funds from other agencies and that the Commission had budgeted a pro-rata of the expense in the event of a traffic set-up was established in the county.

Opposition to one section of the tentative budget was raised by Commissioner C. Y. Byrd of Delray Beach who said that the $16,500 budgeted for operation of veteran service offices was "not warranted". Byrd pointed out that the work of the veteran service offices is duplication of work which is done by the Veterans Administration, American Red Cross and service organizations.

Commissioner Paul Rardin from the Glades has been one of the four commissioners supporting the Veterans' Bureau budget since its inception immediately following the war. It was Rardin who made the original motion to include the Veterans' Bureau money in the budget.

Commission Chairman Lake Loyal said the veteran's funds provide for operation of service offices in Lake Worth, in the Glades area and for negro and white veterans in West Palm Beach and that the funds set aside in the budget had been recommended by the Palm Beach County Veterans Service Committee. Last year the vet fund was $20,000 and provided for operation of an office at Delray Beach.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends for their many acts of kindness during the illness and death of our husband and father. The flowers, cards, and kind expressions of sympathy were all deeply appreciated.

Mrs. Rosa Strickland and family.

A State application for a government patent for a process of preserving flowers in plastic has been turned down by the U. S. Patent Office, according to W. F. Powers, secretary of the State Board of Control.

Lions In Canal Point Have Chance To Talk

The Rev. Earl Jones, program chairman of the Canal Point Lions club, was in charge of a hilarious impromptu program at the club Monday evening. Members were called upon to make a short speech, choosing their own subject. The sky was the limit on topics discussed during the evening. The newly installed president, Boyd Vorhees, presided at the meeting.

A Little Boy With His "Yo-Yo" Wins 1st In Talent Show

The large crowd at the Prince Theatre, Tuesday night went all out for a lad named Buddy Edelfield, who presented a "Yo-Yo" novelty act, and awarded him the first prize. Second prize went to a young girl named Geraldine, a small boy at the time. Miller had two guest artists, Martin and Lovell opening with harmonicas and a piano. A. J. Haven, at the piano, captured the audience with her playing, receiving tremendous applause on her finishing number.

Carol Carpenter sang "Old Piano Roll Blues," and came away with a nice hand. Sylvia Jones offered "I Don't Care if the Sun Don't Shine," with Elmer Jones at the piano, and won a handsome hand. Laverne and Valerie Geiger, Laverne in blackface and Valerie singing, offered a dance novelty that went off nicely.

Malcolm Millar announced that first and second Grand winners (In the finals) will have the opportunity of appearing on Station WTVJ, Florida's first Television station, and warned the customers there were but two more weeks for entries, advising folks to get in now for the finals.

Patsy Maxson accompanied the talent at the piano and offered grand support.

AT TEACHERS' COLLEGE

Mrs. James G. Thomas, Jr., and Mrs. Lula Pope, teachers in the Pahokee schools, accompanied by Miss Betty Lou Fickett left this week for Boone, N. C. where they will attend the Appalachian State Teachers College for the next six weeks. They were joined at Macon, Ga., by Mrs. W. M. DuBois, also a teacher in the Pahokee school, who will attend the college.

Stockholders of Florida Power & Light Company will receive, simultaneously with their next dividend checks, membership cards in "Sunshine Service Clubs", entitling them to visit and inspect all the company's facilities anywhere and giving information and reservation assistance for visits planned to Florida resort centers.

Flood District In Important Meet

WEST PALM BEACH—A two-day conference on the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control project wound up last week by adopting resolutions recommending:

1. Continued efficient but economic operation of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District (FCD).

2. Careful consideration by the State Legislature of the water resources problem and provisions for continued study and development of a control and management program.

3. Early action by Congress to make further financial authorization for the relief of flood and drought conditions north of Lake Okechobee.

These resolutions were among seven approved at final sessions of the Flood and Water Control Committee conference of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce.

Other resolutions adopted called on the State Chamber to provide proper consideration for solution of problems in the Suwannee, Flint and Apalachicola River drainage basins and other areas; pledged support of the Southeastern Resources Development Association; and lauded the Army Corps of Engineers for its work.

The FCD last Saturday, following a public hearing at Okechobee, cut a quarter-million dollars out of their 1950-51 budget and reduced from a full mill to eight-tenths of one mill the proposed tax levy against property within the 17-county district.

New Council In Pahokee Okehs Report Of State Hotel Commission Inspector In Regard To Dilapidated Buildings

The Pahokee City Council took action at a meeting Friday to promote a slum clearance program for the city. The move came following a report by Robert Gardner of the State Hotel Commission that in a recent survey conducted in Negro town that approximately 40 rooming houses and hotels out of the 60 inspected were below standard requirements. The council voted to stand behind Gardner in bringing the buildings up to requirements and owners were notified that some improvements must be made within 30 days. Gardner said that some of the downtown business houses were also below par. He was assisted in the survey by Marvin Cowart, building inspector and E. B. Justice, sanitary officer. This is the first big step in city improvement that the council, which went into office on a city improvement platform, has taken.

A city tax roll of $2,163,280.80 was accepted and the city millage was set at 17 mills the same as last year. Of this amount 10 mills will be used for operational expenses and 7 for bonded indebtedness, interest and sinking fund. Negotiations for the purchase of the E. O. Murphy property, adjoining the City Hall grounds, were completed. The lot will be purchased at a cost of $1600 and the building on the property will be remodeled and redecored and will be used as the city library building. The library now occupies a much needed space in the City Hall auditorium.

Jimmy Sullenger, maintenance man for the three city radio units, was replaced by Howard Bair. Sullenger has been doing the repair work on the units for $60 a month and the city furnishing the materials. Bair took the job for $5 per unit a month and will furnish all the necessary materials. The council granted the police department a clothing allowance of $5.00 per officer a month to be applied on uniforms. Members voted to purchase the remote control unit at the City Hall from the Florida Highway Patrol which will move its office to the new Patrol building completed on E. Main St.

Will Ask For Bids On County Barn In Glades

Mackey Produce Co. Processing "Sweets"

The R. B. Mackey Produce Company in Pahokee is the only packing plant in this section that is still operating. Mackey is packing sweet potatoes for growers in Indian town.

The sweet potato crop in that section has been a profitable summer crop up until this year when prices took a tumble and dropped as low as $2.00 per bushel hamper. Last year the farmers sold their potatoes for as high as $6.00 per crate. Mr. Mackey attributes the drop to storage potatoes held by growers in the Carolinas.

Several thousand hampers a day are being handled by the Produce Company and Mackey said they will be packing for the next week or ten days if the price does not drop any lower.

BONDS ARE SOLD

JACKSONVILLE—Four million dollars in Duval County school bonds have been sold to a syndicate headed by Hasley, Stewart & Co., New York, and Leedy, Wheeler & Allman, Orlando, at an interest rate of 1.876 per cent, which James Graham, director of finance for State Board of Education, says is the lowest for any school bonds in the State for many years, if not ever.

The board of county commissioners has instructed County Engineer Jake Boyd to advertise for bids on the new county barn to be erected on the Pahokee-Belle Glade highway just south of the Glades cattle market, according to Paul Rardin, vice chairman of the commission.

The new barn will be of arch-rib construction and large enough to house all of the road building equipment in the fifth commissioner's district. It will be located on the 6.5 acres of land recently received from the Internal Improvement Board in Tallahassee.

A new bridge will be built across the canal to the property, Rardin said, and a rock fill will be put in within the next few days in order that the new barn may have a sound footing.

The new barn will replace the present one now located in the heart of the residential section of Belle Glade. Several years ago the county board built a small barn north of the bridge in Belle Glade. At that time it was "out in the country." Today the barn stands amid new and modern homes and just across the street from the entrance is a handsome new church. Commissioner Rardin has been interested in moving the barn for several years, but it was only recently that sufficient land could be acquired from the state.

The present barn is small and not near large enough to house the trucks now used in road building in the Glades. The new barn will be of sufficient size to take care of every piece of rolling stock in this district, Rardin concluded.

A. Q. Howell Talks To Pahokee Lions

The Pahokee Lions club had as its speaker Tuesday noon A. Q. Howell, democratic nominee for member of the Palm Beach County school board. He outlined some of the things he hopes to accomplish for the Canal Point and Pahokee Schools if elected. He was introduced by Marshall Lair, program chairman. John Sutterfield, publisher of the Pahokee News also gave an interesting report on a trip he made to Nassau last week.

Thomas E. Baldwin, newly installed president, presided at the meeting.

Supply Pastors Fill Methodist Pulpit

The Rev. Dwight R. Roadman of West Palm Beach, who delivered the sermon at the First Methodist Church in Pahokee Sunday, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Simonson and family. The Rev. Mr. Roadman who filled the pulpit in the absence of the minister, the Rev. Ralph W. Todd, was accompanied to Pahokee by his wife and small daughter.

Next Sunday morning Rev. Charles Thompson, Superintendent of the Methodist Children's Home in Enterprise, will be the supply pastor.

News Notes From State Capital

TALLAHASSEE—Former Governor Millard Caldwell, staunch advocate of the southern regional plan of education, told an audience here that segregation of races in colleges and universities is not prohibited by recent U. S. supreme court decisions. It's the same doctrine he said, which states that when segregation is required by law, facilities must be equal. But what the court may do in the future he added, is anybody's guess. The courts and congress are whitening ceaselessly, he said, at the rights of the states to control their internal affairs.

TALLAHASSEE — A vast new inter-American trade center was assured for Miami by promise of the state cabinet to finance $2,000,000 worth of access highways. The center, to cost $100,000,000 would be constructed with federal loans, state and local financing on a self liquidating basis. It would be the display room for American products for North and South American buyers. Final plans for the state roads in and out of the center will be worked out here this week.

TALLAHASSEE — Hunting in Florida will open November 25 close January 5, for deer, turkey squirrel, bear and panther. Quail may be shot November 25 to February 5. Turkey hens as well as gobblers are eligible. The State Games and Fresh Water Fish Commission decided on these dates at an annual meeting attended by more than the usual disagreements between commission members.

TALLAHASSEE—Two negroes convicted of criminal assault in Lake county were refused reconsideration of their appeals by the Florida Supreme Court, and headed toward the death penalty. A third in the group which touched off race disorders in that county is serving life imprisonment, and a fourth was killed in his attempted capture.

TALLAHASSEE—The savings bond drive in Florida got a boost here with the acceptance by Governor Warren of the big Liberty bell replica which came to rest on the capitol steps. Senator Leroy Collins of this district made the principal speech for the occasion, which saw state leaders from many sections assemble.

TALLAHASSEE — Mrs. Hazel D. Costello of Ormond Beach is the new member of the State Board of Beauty Culture, taking the place of Mrs. Mary Morgan of Orlando. Mrs. Morgan resigned after a barrage of criticism from the Florida Association of Hairdressers and Cosmetologists, directed at her keeping the office beyond a normal term.

TALLAHASSEE — Attorney General Richard W. Ervin this week gave his official opinion on the following general subjects:

BOOKIES — Railroad Commission is authorized to reimburse assistant attorney general from bookie fund for witness fees in telephone gambling hearing.

MAYOR — Notary public may administer oath of office to incoming mayor of Ocoee.

ELECTIONS—It is mandatory for a county Democratic committee to name candidate for vacant justice of peace office to be voted on in November.

JOBS—Person may hold job as county finance officer for the school board and also be employed as veterans' service officer for the county.

PENSIONS—Where cities have made contributions to police pension funds, now suspended, law does not permit them to be reimbursed.

ELECTIONS — Candidate for county executive committee may legally hold office though he was not registered voter when he qualified, but became so before election.

TALLAHASSEE—Justice B. K. Roberts of the Florida Supreme Court will be chief speaker Sunday, July 16, when notables from far and near meet to dedicate the new state tuberculosis sanatorium at Lantana. Senator Wallace Sturgis of Ocala, president-designate will make the introductions. Speaker-elect B. Elliott of Pahokee will introduce legislators. Dr. David Smith of Duke University president of the National Tuberculosis Association, will share speaking honors with State Comptroller C. M. Gay, Dr. Otis Anderson, Assistant U. S. Surgeon General, and Dr. Henry Sweeney, Chief Medical Director for Florida T. B. Sanitaria.

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

County Commissioners Monday formally approved plans for dedicatory ceremonies to be held at the new Southeast Florida State Sanatorium at Lantana this coming Sunday.

Details of the program that has been set up were explained to the board in regular session by Commission Chairman Lake Lytal, who with State Senator John Beacham is co-chairman for the program.

Lytal said that other members of the committee include state and county officials, as follows:

Dr. R. D. Thompson, Dr. W. E. VanLandingham, George W. Bryan, B. Elliott, John Bollinger, James M. Owens, Julie Thomas, Ed Stumpf, Eddie Mackin, M. C. Baker, Paul Dunbar, John Prince, Ben F. Sundy, Kenneth P. Foster, Paul Rardin, Peaslee Strats, L. Thomas Keating, M. Ross Watson, Richard L. Ray, C. Y. Byrd, Harold Rabin, Paul Mercer, B. Fox Griffin, Mrs. Guy W. Allison, John J. Donovan, Tom Watson, Jr., A. Parker Bryant, Mrs. Fred J. Schultz, Mrs. D. L. Friend and the Hon. Joseph S. White.

The hospital program, the board was told, will get underway at 10 a. m., and will continue throughout the day. There will be a program of speaking, concerts, a tour of the hospital with attendants explaining the procedure, and other features of general interest. The BPW will serve refreshments.

Lytal said the co-chairman have extended a specific invitation to every resident of Palm Beach county to attend the ceremonies.

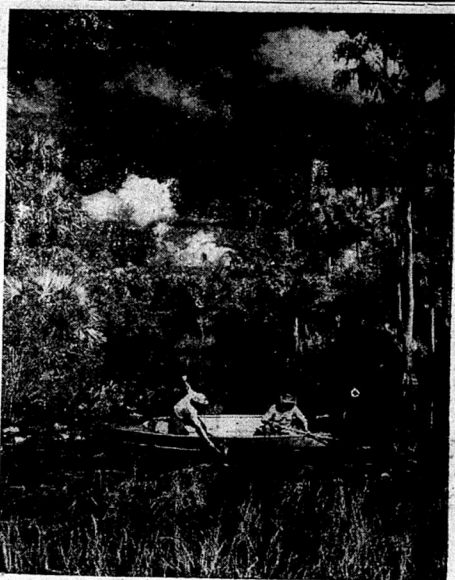

He told the board no written invitations will be sent out to county residents because they are expected to participate in the program as a matter of course, since the hospital is located in this county.

The board was told that soon after the initial program, the hospital will take steps to begin actual operations. Lytal said more than 70 patients from this county now in other institutions will eventually be brought back home for treatment.

Opening of the TB hospital marks the climax of 5 years of efforts on the part of the county commission, which gave the hospital the site. In that five year period, Lytal said, the entire board of commissioners, including John Prince, who dedicated the land for hospital purposes, and C. Y. Byrd, Paul Rardin and later Kenneth Foster did their utmost to have the structure completed. Frequently, the board was told, Senator Beacham and other legislators stepped in to get funds released for the work.

Lytal said the hospital stands as a reminder of what can be accomplished by cooperation, but that in addition, it is a milestone in the State's medical progress, and a "new industry" for Palm Beach county.

The chairman explained that the hospital's annual payroll will average $400,000 and that an equal amount will be spent for repairs and maintenance and said that much of those funds would be channeled into the county.

It took the Blue Ribbon Award at the recent meeting of Florida photographers in Tampa. Bob Ruskauff, noted California photographer, said the picture—"It is worth hanging in the Metropolitan Museum." Oca made the picture while shooting an outdoors assignment. The fisherman is Howe Sadler, director of the Advertising Commission; Bill Buford is handling the boat. Smiley Burnette, Western comedian, starred with Charlie Starrett, is now the proud owner of Hollywood's most elaborate and expensive headpiece. When Smiley appeared before 5000 persons at the annual sports show in Hartland, Vermont, recently, The Turtle Clan of the St. Regis Mohawk Indians of Canada, through their chief, Flying Cloud, presented him with a beautiful headdress of eagle feathers, and made him an Indian chief. The new tribal name for Smiley is Ro-To-We, which means "Smiling Man." This honor has been conferred on only four other persons, the most recent being Governor Arthur of Vermont. Smiley now has full fishing and hunting privileges on the Indian reservation in Canada, without need of a license, whenever he visits there. Ray Milland prefers deep sea fishing to seeking elusive trout. He claims there's more mystery in the ocean, you never know what you'll catch. John Hodiak originated the character of "Li' Abner" on the air. Before going to Hollywood he acted in radio shows in Detroit and Chicago. He will be seen as one of the stars of the Western thriller, "Ambush," with Robert Taylor and Arlene Dru at the Prince Theatre, Sunday-Monday. See you at the movies—Mal.

Fishing Contests Are Ruled Non-Lottery

ST. PETERSBURG — Biggest news in the St. Petersburg Tarpon Roundup comes from Washington where the House judiciary committee ruled that fishing contests are legal and not subject to anti-lottery laws.

This decision overrides the Post Office Department's February announcement which barred publication of news articles about fishing tournaments.

Gwen Crouch, of St. Petersburg was winner of the ninth weekly prize in the 1950 Jay-see Tarpon Roundup with a 98-pound silver king. This was the first week of the tourney in which a 100-pound-or-better fish had not been entered.

TO LATE TO CLASSIFY

BY RUSSELL KAY

SECRETARY OF THE FLORIDA PRESS ASSOCIATION

Highway beautification is a subject that has been discussed many times in Florida but very little has ever been done about it. A few enterprising communities through their local chambers of commerce or garden clubs have succeeded in beautifying short stretches of highway; the State Road Department with its roadside parks has helped materially to make certain highways more attractive and inviting but so far we have not even scratched the surface.

Harold Cole, executive vice president and general manager of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, thinks that something should and can be done about it and the State Chamber has taken the lead in a move to arouse and interest all civic groups in a constructive united program to improve the looks of our highways so that the thousands of visitors entering the state each year will have a more favorable impression of Florida.

"We advertise Florida as the land of sunshine and flowers," Cole says, "but it is difficult for tourists to even smell the flowers." He describes junk piles and unsightly debris along main arteries entering our larger cities as "disgraceful."

President Walter Hays has appointed a special State Chamber committee to further the move to clean up and beautify our highways.

ways and the committee has called for a statewide mass meeting next Fall to develop support for such a program.

Mrs. W. S. Jennings, Jacksonville, chairman of the committee, hopes to enlist the enthusiastic support of women's groups in particular and feels that if the women of Florida once make up their minds that they really want a Florida roadside housecleaning they will see the program through. State Road Department officials while sympathetic with the beautification move, point out that "Highway Safety" is the immediate problem and increased traffic makes virtually every major highway in the state inadequate.

The matter of clean-up and beautification is a job that should and can be done by local civic groups and organizations if a constructive and intelligent, general plan is prepared and followed.

Now that we have the cows off the highway it is possible to inaugurate a beautification and planting program with some hope of success. In the past those who have tried to put through such programs have been discouraged when after extensive planting stray cattle came along and ate or trampled flowers and plants or the plants were destroyed by wildfires.

I recall many years ago shortly after World War I, the Rotary Club of Tampa financed the planting of a Memorial Highway from the City of Tampa to Oldsmar—a distance of 16 miles. The highway was planted with flowering shrubs and trees. Because no protection was afforded, it was not very long before most of the plants and many of the trees had been destroyed by either cows on the highway or wildfires.

When it comes to making a real impression on our visitors there is nothing that attracts more favorable attention than a beautified roadway. They remember the community and county that affords an attractive roadside entrance.

While sniping with road signs is supposed to be prohibited by law in this state, thousands of signs are still tacked to trees, posts and fences and the worst offenders are political candidates. Today throughout the state can be found hundreds of tattered and torn U. S. Senator placards and those of many other candidates. Maybe if the state were to remove these ugly eyesores and charge each candidate with the cost of the operation we would not have so many offenders in the future.

From time to time attempts have been made to eliminate billboards or regulate their number and size, but little progress has been made. The billboard people are excellent lobbyists and whenever a bill is introduced in the legislature something always seems to happen to it. But attractive billboards in limited number are not as offensive as some of the junk pile eyesores. Cole speaks about, and these can be cleaned up only through local civic pride and cooperation.

Florida could stand a lot of highway beautification, and perhaps this latest move in that direction will bear fruit. The Florida State Chamber of Commerce has a way of getting things done and if it spark-plugs this movement as it has others and with equal success, the name of Florida, Land of Flowers, will become a reality.

Leo Edwards, chairman of Florida State Racing Commission, and two board members; Roy L. Patience and B. P. Beville, have been named to committees of the National Association of State Racing Commissioners. The association's 1951 convention will be held at Miami Beach, January 21-25.

CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"LIFE" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday July 16.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?" (Ps. 27:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "My flesh and my heart faileth; but God is the strength of my heart and my portion for ever" (Ps. 73:26).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "As a material, theoretical life-basis is found to be a misapprehension of existence, the spiritual and divine Principle of man dwells upon human thought, and leads it to 'where the young child was,'—even to the birth of a new-old idea, to the spiritual sense of being and of what Life includes. Thus the whole earth will be transformed by Truth on its pinions of light, chasing away the darkness of error" (191:3).
